554.7106 Control of electronic document of title.

- 1. A person has control of an electronic document of title if a system employed for evidencing the transfer of interests in the electronic document reliably establishes that person as the person to which the electronic document was issued or transferred.
- 2. A system satisfies subsection 1, and a person is deemed to have control of an electronic document of title, if the document is created, stored, and assigned in such a manner that:
- a. a single authoritative copy of the document exists which is unique, identifiable, and, except as otherwise provided in paragraphs "d", "e", and "f", unalterable;
 - b. the authoritative copy identifies the person asserting control as:
 - (1) the person to which the document was issued; or
- (2) if the authoritative copy indicates that the document has been transferred, the person to which the document was most recently transferred;
- c. the authoritative copy is communicated to and maintained by the person asserting control or its designated custodian;
- d. copies or amendments that add or change an identified assignee of the authoritative copy can be made only with the consent of the person asserting control;
- e. each copy of the authoritative copy and any copy of a copy is readily identifiable as a copy that is not the authoritative copy; and
- f. any amendment of the authoritative copy is readily identifiable as authorized or unauthorized.
